

Target Areas

This is a pilot project run in collaboration with a number of Energy Co-operatives across Ireland. Only schools within the target areas should apply to participate.

With this pilot we are testing how interested schools are in using solar power, and what benefits solar power provides to schools. We are also using a variety of methods to encourage participation across a variety of different communities, targeted in a variety of different ways.

If successful, the target areas will be expanded in 2019.
